

VíaVienté Has Changed My Life

What Are People Saying About VíaVienté?

I have arthritis in both hands and lower back. I started on Vía and to this day, I have no pain in my hands or back. Now, I get out of bed in the morning with no effort at all. Many thanks to those who brought comfort to my life.

Beverly H. - Garden Grove, CA

I am 34 yrs old, eat right, work out and still had aches in my knees, shins, ankles, wrists, elbows, etc. I've had high blood pressure issues that had been borderline high for quite sometime. I started taking Vía and within days I noticed my energy level was very high! My aches and pains were going away and now most of them are gone! A huge thing is my blood pressure dropped to normal and my resting heart rate dropped to normal. I am sleeping soundly and wake up bright eyed like never before!

Roger P. - South Bend, IN

I get a physical exam every year. Usually my cholesterol is high, and I am borderline or slightly anemic. I started taking Vía recently. I just had my yearly physical, and my doctor seemed very surprised at how excellent ALL of my blood levels were. He said I'm in perfect health. Before Vía, this was not the norm. Thank you so much. I am looking and feeling better than I ever have.

Wendy K. - New Orleans, LA

I've been a diabetic for 30 years now and have struggled to keep my sugar levels in some sort of normal range. After taking VíaVienté for about 6 or 7 weeks, I began to notice that I didn't need as much insulin per shot. As if last Friday I've been waking up in the morning with my blood glucose level normal. I feel so much better generally. I have more strength in the gym, more endurance and energy.

Rick H. - Deltona, Florida

♥ Natural Heart Remedy

Diane's Miracle Heart Cure

When Diane Vivian developed heart problems, she thought traditional medicine was the only answer. Then she discovered an amazing, all-natural beverage that got her heart beating on the right track again...

There it was again: the relentless fluttering in her heart. And Diane Vivian was scared.

She had tried to tell herself it would be okay, that the palpitations she'd been having would go away. But now, as they woke her up from a sound sleep, the Winter Springs, Florida, mother of two found herself worrying: Something's really wrong with me!

The first time Diane started feeling a flip-flopping in her chest, she chalked it up to being a busy working mom, always on the run. Yet when it didn't stop happening on and off all day and even into the night – she called her doctor in a panic.

"Go to the ER – now!" he advised.

Once there, Diane explained, "I'm not having chest pain. But I can feel my heart beating – and it feels like it's missing beats."

After an exam and EKG, the doctor determined Diane had atrial fibrillation a disorder affecting 2.2 million Americans in which the upper two chambers of the heart beat irregularly. By having it, Diane was at risk of developing blood clots that could lead to a stroke.

No! Diane reeled. I want to be around for a long time. My family needs me!

So though Diane always hated taking pills, when the cardiologist prescribed medication, she figured: What other choice do I have?

Miracle Juice

But as Diane took her medication, she began to get purple splotches all over her skin.

"Another bruise?" her husband, Gary, frowned, concerned. Soon, Diane began noticing her eyes were blood shot, too – there were even broken blood vessels there!

As if the side effects weren't enough, Diane was paying more than $200 a month for prescriptions not covered by insurance – and yet, the palpitations continued!

They happened when she was at the kids' games. During meetings at work. Even when she was trying to fall asleep at night!

There has to be something else I can take, Diane thought. Desperate, she went to see four cardiologists, but each insisted she needed to take that very medication to keep her condition under control.

But what if it isn't the only way? Diane wondered. So she began researching natural remedies – and, on the Internet, stumbled across a product called ViaVienté.

Created by a team of nutritionists who discovered that the Vilcabambans – the people who live high in the Andes Mountains of South America – routinely live to 100 years old thanks in large part to their antioxidant-rich diet, the drink was made from 13 pureed whole foods, including grapes, blueberries, aloe vera and noni, a Tahitian fruit from a tree in the coffee family.

In fact, Diane learned a typical serving of ViaVienté was equal to five servings of fruits and vegetables – and contained twice the amount of antioxidants recommended daily!

Powerhouse in a Glass

Wow, "Diane marveled to Gary and her mom. "This stuff sounds great – like an antioxidant power house in a glass!"

Still, it was hard to believe that a juice drink could make a difference. But it's all-natural, and even if it doesn't help, it couldn't hurt, Diane thought.

So she bought a bottle at her local health-food store (also available online at ViaVienté.com). And the next day, after just one 4-oz. glass, as Diane and Gary went for a walk, she felt more ... energetic, somehow. That night, she slept better, too.

"I had fewer palpitations!" she told Gary the next morning. Still, Diane expected them to return. Yet amazingly, as days turned to weeks, the palpitations all but vanished.

"I actually feel great!" Diane marveled at her next checkup. So, with her doctor's blessing, Diane began tapering off her medication!

Today, four years later, Diane can't remember the last time she had palpitations! And though she'll always have atrial fibrillation, her cardiologist recently determined that her heart is as strong as that of a 37-year old ... which isn't bad for someone who just turned 54!

"I'm healthier than ever now!" Diane beams. "I can't even begin to describe how grateful I am to be focused on the wonderful things in life – like my family – instead of being worried about my heart. Best of all, I'm drug-free. And that feels great!"
